STATINTL

In keeping with the agreement reached between the Central Intelligence Agency and the Department of State's Bureau of Intelligence and Research, I am pleased to forward the names of the 20 intelligence officers who will attend the February 5 briefing on the agency's Intelifax Service.

Realizing that last minute complications often make it impossible for a designated officer to attend a scheduled briefing, I have also listed three alternates. I trust that it will be agreeable if at the last minute I substitute one or more of these alternates to fill the quota for this briefing.

Joseph T. Bartos
Executive Director
Bureau of Intelligence and Research
